

Successfully Navigating your FAA Flight Physical

It is important to 'preflight' for your flight physical, just as it is to preflight before a flight. Several aspects of the preparation will be discussed, including successful completion of the FAA MedXPress online. Tips will be offered which will make this process less stressful. Updates will be provided regarding the status of the EAA/AOPA petition and the Congressional bills, both of which could drastically and positively impact pilots.

Directions: This seminar will be located in the Modern Avionics Hanger.
